May 22, 2007 – Oak Ridge Mayor David Bradshaw was honored with the Oak Ridge Economic Partnership’s Acorn Award at the Partnership’s eighth-annual Industry Appreciation Luncheon held on May 22 at the Inspiration Point Conference Center. More than 100 community leaders attended the event.

According to Kim Denton, President of the Oak Ridge Economic Partnership, “The Acorn Award is for dedication and leadership on behalf of economic development in Oak Ridge. We are proud to recognize extraordinary commitment to economic development, and this year’s recipient, David Bradshaw, is extremely well-deserving.”

He is the Secretary/Treasurer of the Oak Ridge Economic Partnership board, is Chairman of the American Museum of Science and Energy Foundation Board, and is past chairman of the CROET board.
